Eliza Root, former secretary of state and former senator.

As proof that he had seen the peace treaty in New York City a few days ago, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Senate majority leader, described in the Senate this afternoon the document he had held in his hands.

Interpretations by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, acting Senate minority leader, caused the Massachusetts Senator to admit that no representative of New York financial interests had permitted him to examine the treaty, but that it had come to him from a man of "high reputation," whose name, while he was not at liberty to mention it, he immediately recognized by the American people.

"I was not within two or three miles of Wall Street, while I was in New York, the other day," Senator Lodge said.

A copy of the peace treaty I saw comprised 415 small folio

SCHOOLS CLOSED BY HEAT

Mail Deliveries Suspended in Some Towns; No Cool Wave in Sight

Prostrations, the closing of schools and factories, and the elimination of mail deliveries in certain of the suburbs, marked the third day of the hot wave, which has Boston in its grip.

With the mercury reaching 84, several degrees higher than the mark attained yesterday, the public sweltered and suffered with no relief in sight.

The official forecast was: "Fair tonight and Friday; not much change in temperature; moderate variable winds."

All the schools in the Dorchester district were closed, including the Mary Hemenway, Harris, Hocham, and Bridge South Union, and the kindergarten on Everett street.

The grammar schools in Lexington, Concord, Bedford and Arlington, as well as the high school in Cambridge, were closed at noon. The noon mail deliveries in Arlington and Lexington were also closed at 1 p. m.

All schools in Woburn closed likewise suspended in Wakefield were reported.

Eastward the course of heat takes its way, the entire country from the Mississippi to the Atlantic being in the grip of the hot spell. At 8 o'clock today Boston shared with Tampa, Fla., a temperature of 84, with every indication that the mercury would climb higher.

Shore courts were thronged again today, and the street cars, steamboats and trains flying between this city and the beaches did a tremendous business.

Surprise today found comfortable on the Common and to the city parks, where a cool but uncomfortable summer in the open made possible by the order of Mayor Terrell.

TRAGEDY AT MINE SPOOLS

Men Caught in Blast of Flame as Trolley Sparks Ignite Powder

By International News Service.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 3.—Seventy-eight men were killed and forty-eight were injured in the mine fire in the Baltimore No. 2 tunnel of the Delaware & Hudson Company here today, according to an official list given out by the company.

Forty-one bodies have been identified. Thirty-seven remain unidentified.

The accident happened shortly before 7 o'clock while the men were being taken to their places of employment. A trip of empty cars was provided to convey them, drawn by an electric motor, John McCrearty was driving it.

Into these cars the one hundred workmen were crowded, and on the same train were ten kegs of black powder.

When 250 feet in the tunnel the electric trolley wire fell. Sparks from it ignited the powder and the explosion that followed blew the men in all directions. More men died from flames and asphyxiation than from the force of the explosion.

The explosion was terrific. It was felt in all parts of the city and was heard for miles around.

The accident was in direct violation of the law, it is said. Men are permitted to ride to their work in trains, but it is direct violation of the law to transport men and powder in the same train. On the train today were ten kegs of black powder, and it is definitely established that this powder exploded from sparks from a broken trolley wire. State officials are on the scene. They have not yet begun an investigation, desiring all their time in the work of rescue.

When rescuers got into the tunnel dead men were found everywhere. Some had been slightly burned and

Governor Asks State to Repay Hayden and Powers

Damage to the property of Judge Albert P. Hayden and Representative Leland Powers should be paid for by the public. This is the opinion of Governor Chas. D. Ives today in a special message to the Legislature. The governor points out that the injury to property of both these officials was incurred in the performance of their public duty, and asks for special legislation to reimburse them. He declares that there are many precedents for such action.

And it is a disgrace to the people that an attack on the sovereignty of the people, which the people will repel by every possible means."

POPE, ON 'TIGHT ROPE,' GAVE MOST AID TO ENTENTE, SAYS GASPARRI

CARDINAL REPLIES TO CHARGE OF PARTIALITY DURING WAR

By EDWARD C. STRUTT,

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Rome, June 5.—In an exclusive interview granted the International News Service today Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, defended the Holy See against charges of partiality in favor of Germany and Austria during the war and offered to place the archives of the Holy See at the disposal of anyone wishing to investigate the Vatican's war work and diplomacy.

From the very beginning of the war, Cardinal Gasparri said, the pope was in the unenviable position of a man watching a catastrophe, with both groups of belligerents trying to push him off. Neither successful, he said, and now the Vatican waits a push from both sides.

Facts and figures prove that the Vatican actually expended a greater amount of money in favor of the entente powers than in behalf of the central powers, declared Cardinal Gasparri. "This was natural because the entente countries were easily accessible to us. Italy, France and Belgium were considered most by the Vatican's initiative."

CLEARING HOUSE OF VOICES.—A hundred times in the Vatican palace was transformed into offices for the transmission of letters and parcels to prisoners, for answering only thousands of letters from anxious mothers, wives and sisters of all belligerent nations. I personally directed this clearing house of voices and answers. Hardly a day passed but His Holiness sent autographed letters requesting prayers for condemned men and women. It was no exaggeration to say that hundreds were saved through the direct intervention of the pope when their lives hung in the balance. Nevertheless, despite this monumental work for humanity, the accusation of partiality still persists.

Practically Agree to Fix German Indemnity at $25,000,000,000 in Cash

By JOHN EDWIN KEVIN, Correspondent of the International News Service.

Paris, June 5.—Definite progress was made at today's conference on the formulation of the allies' reply to Germany's counter proposal. The conference has practically agreed that a definite figure should be fixed for the indemnity, which must pay. The amount is still disputed, but will probably be $25,000,000,000 in cash, and in addition other fixed reparations such as coal from the Saar basin and the rebuilding of Belgium and northern France.

Practically, Paderewski of Poland protested bitterly today against the boundaries fixed in the original treaty. He said that the boundaries of Germany are already plotting to overtake the allies and to take advantage of the slight weakness by the allies and associated powers. Paderewski is prepared to assist the allies in their efforts to restore Russian Poland.

NC-4 MEN ARE GUESTS OF ROYALTY

By International News Service.

London, June 3.—Royalty paid honor to America's airmen today when the Prince of Wales attended a luncheon given in honor of Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Hook, skipper of the American naval airplane NC-4, and his fellow crew on the trans-Atlantic flight.

In addition to Lieutenant-Commander Hook and the crew, Commander J. B. Read and the crew of the Atlantic Fleet's "Teeson" and Lieutenant-Commander Phillips, commander of the NC-4, and his crew were present.

The host was Staff-General J. B. Read, former secretary of the War Office. The luncheon was held in the presence of the Prince of Wales and his entourage, including the Duke of York and the Duke of Gloucester.

The guests included members of the cabinet and the House of Commons. The Prince of Wales, who is a member of the Royal Air Force, was accompanied by his wife, the Duchess of York.

The flight of the NC-4, which was the first trans-Atlantic flight by a single-engine airplane, was a great achievement for the American Navy. The crew, consisting of Commander Hook and seven other men, had been in the air for 33 hours and 30 minutes when they landed in England.

The flight was a triumph for the American Navy and a great source of pride for the American people. It showed that the American Navy was capable of long-distance flights and that it was a force to be reckoned with.

SEEK MILLION ASSOCIATE BOY SCOUTS

Great Field Day at Stadium Saturday Will Demonstrate What Boys Are Taught

There is a dollar in the nation's hand, the editors will be in distress of better times.

In effect, this is the slogan of the nationwide campaign for one million associate members of the Boy Scouts.

While the campaign will begin with the reading of the National Scout Oath, and the presentation of the flag, the day of the stadium will be a day of the stadium.

At the stadium, the boys will be taught the things that are taught in the way of physical education.

TEACH BOY CHIVALRY. The boys, however, represent but a small part of the usefulness of the Boy Scouts.

They teach a boy to take care of himself in all emergencies. They help him to become a citizen.

They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen.

They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen.

They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen.

They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen. They teach him to be a citizen.

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent. or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, liniments and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. There can be no danger in the use of Castoria if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher as it contains no opiates or narcotics of any kind.

Children Cry For Fletcher's
CASTORIA

Let's Think It Over.

There is such a thing as saying too much on any subject, and the "grand-stand" talker sooner or later becomes a bore. The truth is always welcomed, and the truth reiterated and confirmed is more than welcome—it reaches your innermost soul.

Fletcher's Castoria in all its advertising has claimed for it. Scrutinized by the microscope of public opinion and used for over thirty years it stands without a peer in the hearts of thoughtful, cautious, discerning Mothers. And now used, mother love—there is no substitute for mother love—will score to try a "substitute" or a "just-as-good."

Masking under many names drugs that are injurious to the tender babe have found their way into some mothers' hands, but the light of experience soon casts them out. Are they cast out before it is too late?

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOTTLE THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.

BIG ULCER
ALL HEALED

"Now I Can Walk," Says Mrs. Southcott of Medina.

There is another letter that makes me happy. It is from Mrs. Southcott of Medina, Ohio. She writes that she has been suffering from a big ulcer for some time, but that she has now had it healed. She says that she can now walk, and that she is very happy.

I know it because I am a doctor, and I have seen many cases of ulcers. I have seen them healed, and I have seen them return. I have seen them healed, and I have seen them return.

I have seen them healed, and I have seen them return. I have seen them healed, and I have seen them return. I have seen them healed, and I have seen them return.

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHING ON FACE

And Arms. Then Pimples and Blisters. Could Not Sleep.

"My face and arms began itching, and little red pimples appeared that later became blisters. They became sore and itchy. I could not sleep an hour at night, and I had to scratch. Then the doctor told me to use Cuticura. They helped wonderfully, and I used about two cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment and I was healed." (Signed) Arthur R. Guenther, 9 Avery St., Providence, R. I., August, 1918.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Tablets are all you need for all toxic cases. Bathe with Soap, soothe with Ointment, dust with Tablets.

Stage a Cowdy Day With Braves and Dodgers Battling—Off for West Tonight

Hank Ford, who has been a hero to the Buffalo fans, will stage a cowdy day with the Braves and Dodgers on June 10. Hank Ford will be off for the west tonight.

"TWO AND THREE" PUTTING THE NEXT ONE OVER WITH "DUNG" DAIR

YOU'VE got to be a lawyer to run a soda fountain nowadays. HANK FORD is a not in suit for a million washers unless he sure for the income tax on it, too.

Jack can stampede Jess with a left to the back, he has a right that will knock the champ pinker than the Police Gazette.

WARM weather loosens up the kinks in the salary arms, but it doesn't loosen up the old rivalry.

WHEN it comes to striking you back to the water bucket, prohibition is not a new idea.

EXCHANGING the sound for the sight k doesn't bring peace.

IT'S to remain moist on slapping "Nein," we'll give the referee a chance to make two.

THE more you buzz you, that this is the worst year of the war. It's the year of the tax on not sending that has the players cutting out.

A FEW pop bottles were looted in Chicago last week, but not enough to get into the society news.

DEMPSY'S plan calls for a blizzard of knuckles to Jess' lower vest. Dempsy's plan is to fold Jess up like a Chinese fan and then pull out as they say in Texas, an oil well isn't an oil well until there's oil in it.

TAPPING and feathering the rent profiteers won't annoy 'em much if they are allowed to keep the tar and feathers.

A WILL shock to realize that, after four years of fighting for humanity, we are four long years in which millions gave up their lives for a higher price than mass life worth living after all this what? The sport after is a cakewalk.

The Harp With a Single String —Self Preservation

Baer, the Farmer Congressman, Says Workmen Play This String Always, Because They Must

Copyright, 1919, Rex Company

You will read below a letter sent to the editor by Congressman J. M. Baer of North Dakota. Mr. Baer is first a farmer, cultivating a thousand acres, and knowing how hard it is to make bills and expenses meet; second, a cartoonist, able to make good pictures as you see; third, a member of the United States Congress, sent by farmers who threw out the Republican and the Democratic candidates, representing corporations, and chose the farmer, Baer, instead.

Life is something like a great orchestra. As you sit at the opera, you see the first violinist fiddling away all the time, playing all sort of notes, from the bottom to the top, busy, excited, the happiest man in the orchestra, next to the director waving the little stick. Off in one corner sits a man with a big drum. All he ever does is hit that drum once or twice a hour or so. The music he produces is not fancy, compared with that of the first violinist. So it is, as Congressman Baer points out, in that orchestra we call human society. There are many playing on a harp with only one string, the string of Self-Preservation.

The worst thing about modern industry is its ever increasing monotony. There was a time when a man made a complete pair of shoes. He started in the morning, worked all day and perhaps the next day. Then he had a complete job, a pair of shoes made entirely by himself, and there was the mental satisfaction that comes from starting a thing AND FINISHING IT.

Now the man who makes shoes works all day at one little part of the shoe, putting in the little holes for the laces, fastening on the heel, or doing some other one thing. He spends his whole life as a shoemaker, yet never has a complete pair of shoes made by himself, in his hand. His life is monotonous, for he never FINISHES ANYTHING. He is always playing on one string. So it is in automobile factories, where a man spends the day hammering a certain part of an automobile, or tightening a certain kind of nut, and so it is throughout industry.

This kind of work is necessary, for it means greater efficiency. It means that machines and men combined can do in one day ten times, a hundred times what they used to do.

It will be all right when industry gives the long hours of work, twenty-four hours a day, to THE MACHINES, and the shortest possible hours of work to the human being.

A man can stand hammering at one nail for six hours, if you give him six other hours to work in his garden, or work at his music or his studies. The disgraceful thing in our civilization is that nine men out of ten would laugh if you suggested the possibility of a workman spending six hours with his hammer and six hours of freedom in art, literature or music.

The human race, however, is not always to be divided as at present, the great majority working monotonously, playing on one string, a small minority using their brains fully and completely.

Highly perfected machinery, and human beings understanding how to protect themselves and get good pay and short hours, will solve this problem. This is Congressman Baer's letter.

Editor Boston American, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR:—On page 83 of "The Annals" of the American Academy of Political and Social Science for March, I read an article entitled, "Humanizing Industry," by Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University. This is pretty "high brow" stuff for a farmer to be reading. But you know that men who have made a life long study of our social conditions are able to tell the TRUTH about them. I presume this is why so many of the able instructors are compelled to resign from the faculties of our large colleges. Big business, which usually controls the Board of Regents, does not like to have men on faculties who tell THE FACTS about conditions.

Professor Fisher states that human nature is a harp of many strings. The trouble is that the worker is harping on only one—self-preservation. This, which is the securing of a living, is probably the basic one. But he points out that the workers must be able to use the whole octave in order to humanize industry. In my cartoon I have tried to show the other major instincts, but you will note their strings are broken.

Until modern industry recognizes the other instincts of the ordinary working man our labor problem will not be solved. It is refreshing to know that the Ford Automobile Company and many other industries are today recognizing the fact that all these faculties must be developed. But I believe it will require legislation in order to have some of our selfish interests as some of these things. It would not only work to the welfare of the workers, but also to the prosperity of the employers.

Very truly yours,

J. M. BAER.

Make Her a Real Captain

Copyright, 1919, Rex Company

Captain Janis is home. You ask who is Captain Janis? Her name has come from more than a dozen electric signs on Broadway and what is better her name has brought a light even brighter than electricity furnishes to the eyes of thousands of American boys in the camps and trenches of France.

Miss Elsie Janis is of course "Captain" only by courtesy. The soldiers gave her the title because she was a leader. If they had their way the title would be legally conferred on her for her fifteen months' service over there.

No one woman did so much as she to make life bearable in the war zone. She sang and danced, not in theatres in Paris, but in "huts" about which shells were falling and on outdoor stages where artillery played an accompaniment to her voice.

If you are interested to know just what she did you can get an idea from the graphically told stories of her experiences which has written for Hearst's Magazine. She calls this month's installment "No Wonder the Church Bells Rang," and tells in her own intimate way of her first experience in a prize ring. "Captain" Janis she is, but Captain, a real captain, Janis she ought to be.

A Congressman's Cartoon

This, says J. M. Baer, Congressman representing the farmers of North Dakota, is the American workman playing, because he is compelled to, on one single string. Read Congressman Baer's letter and the editorial to the left. (See editorial).

YE TOWN GOSSIP

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

By K. C. B.

DEAR K. C. B.—And talking about stenographers, please don't fail to give credit to the "Boss," who usually says: "Will you take some letters—or you probably want to go to lunch now?" Or: "Are you too busy to get out some letters right away for me?" And when he says it he means it just that way.

You may call it diplomacy, which you must likely will, but it is high-class snub and makes the "stenographer" work overtime with a mile-wide smile on her face. THE STENO.

Humboldt Park Building, San Francisco, Cal.

MY DEAR STENO,

YOU'RE RIGHT.

ABOUT THAT DIPLOMACY.

THAT LIKE most other folk.

WHEN THEY talk of diplomacy.

YOU'RE GETTING the cart.

AHEAD of the horse.

BUT I have an idea.

AND THAT'S just as far wrong.

AS IS the impression.

THAT A diplomat.

IS JUST A man.

WHO HAS been schooled.

IN THE art of diplomacy.

WHICH ISN'T true.

FOR REALLY and truly.

THE ART of diplomacy.

IS NOTHING more.

THAN DOING things.

IN THE sort of way.

THAT STIRS no strife.

IN ANY one's mind.

AND THAT leaves an impression.

THAT THE "diplomat."

IS A gentleman.

WHO DOESN'T forget.

THAT WHATEVER the issue.

THERE ARE two viewpoints.

AND THIS less of yours.

OR OF WHOM YOU write.

IS A diplomat.

TO JUST the degree.

THAT HE'S kind to you.

AND CONSIDERATE.

AND ALWAYS remembers.

THAT THE humble "steno."

IS JUST as much.

A PART of the game.

AS HE is himself.

AND THE chances are.

THAT WHEREVER he goes.

HE'S JUST the same.

AND I'll bet my hat.

THAT THE man who shaves him.

OR SHINES his shoes.

OR WAITS on his table.

OR DRIVES his car.

IS JUST as willing.

TO GIVE him the best.

THAT HE has to give.

AS YOU yourself.

WHEN YOU work overtime.

AND WITHOUT a grouch.

AND THE play is.

THAT SO many of us.

WON'T GIVE a man credit.

FOR JUST being kind.

BECAUSE HE wants to be kind.

AND WAS born that way.

I THANK you.

In addressing the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society in Boston on "Growing Requirements of Children," he boasted the ice cream soda game for children, saying:

"Active, growing children require large amounts of food and one should strive to have children somewhat over, rather than under, weight. The great desire for excess food with children finds a special outlet in their patronage of the candy counter, bake-shop and ice cream soda fountain. One good ice cream soda or 'sundae' can furnish 500 calories, or nearly one-third of the quiet resting demands of a full-grown woman."

LAND WHERE WOMEN ARE THE RULERS

American Heiress Off to Solve Secrets of the Amazons

(Copyright, 1919.)

THEY call this "Women's Arc" Maybe it is the beginning of a Woman's Arc such as once before pertained in this world's history.

Down in South America, indeed, live today the formidable tribe of Amazons, from whose legendary existence the greatest of rivers may have taken its name. These women—true Amazons—permit no men to live among them, except during the months of May and June, say who linger longer are killed. They rule their land with from severity; are soldiers so fierce that neighboring tribes for centuries have not dared molest them. There is a highly organized community, and they have kept alive age-old traditions and culture.

Now down into that Jungle Land, infested with poisonous serpents and insects and where life is crude in the extreme, one of America's fairest and richest women is going on an interrupted honeymoon; and she will live among the strange peoples there, and bring back the secrets of the Amazons and strange tribes who live along the Amazon River.

Dr. and Mrs. Rice, shortly after their marriage, went down along the river for their honeymoon; and Dr. Rice—who, by the way, is a former resident of Beacon street and very well known here—says of her, "She is as good a traveler under all kinds of difficulties and hardships as I ever saw."

The war called them back from that adventure; and now they are on their way back to the midst of the jungles to finish the interrupted honeymoon!

This is a fascinating, true story told in next Sunday's Advertiser and American—you will want to read all of it.

Two million years of history are rolled up in the elephant's trunk. Just how he came to have one is another interesting feature of next Sunday's Magazine Section.

"Next" The Prohibitionists are looking for men worlds to conquer; and Professor Romaine, who wrote the W. C. T. U.'s book, "Nice-ties Next," says that tobacco will not only follow liquor into the involuntary discard, but that "after tobacco, then tea and coffee must go."

All about how they set up the largest canvas building in the world, in just eleven minutes. You've doubtless wondered about this, lots of times.

"The Red Lady!" By Katharine Newlin Burr—a real "thriller," it is begun next Sunday! Who—or what is the terror that walks by night in that isolated Southern home? The House of Horror it might be called. From the first sentence the reader is gripped with the force of this powerful mystery, through which a pretty romance runs, and which is told in a mastery way. Illustrated by Edmund Fredericks.

Julia Tuck French, who married handsome Jack Geraghty, chauffeur in haste, and is now back in her mother's household reporting at leisure, tells "Why a rich girl and a poor man can never be happy together."

"Simple Summer evening gown," by Lady Duff-Gordon, are visions of loveliness.

"Father" has a new dispute. He really has put one over on Mrs. Jiggs, this time—and all is well.

To the Editor

Atlantic Eastern Loop Editor Boston American:

For the convenience of thousands of Summer patrons of the beaches, I suggest that the Atlantic Eastern Loop of the Elevated trains be continued during June, July and August.

At present commuters from the Dudley street station have to get off at the Summer street station, then transfer for South Station, then once more transfer to another car for Rowe's Wharf, which makes unnecessary delays.

It wouldn't prove any hardship for the "L" if they took this matter up immediately.

Yours, MORTON MILLER.

More About Dynamite Anarchists Would Make Laws

United States a German Partnership Paper Money Ran Third

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

Stock gambling, race track gambling and strikes are becoming a bad combination.

Five hundred thousand going into various strikes in Paris; no newspapers, not even news bulletins published in Buenos Ayres for six successive days. Strikes and uprisings everywhere, "from Paris to Pekin and from Pekin to Rome," as the French poet had it.

This world of a new born peace league is far from peaceful. You may (but probably won't) keep nations from fighting each other, but how are you going to keep individuals and classes from war?

Congress is planning legislation to meet the dramatic scene. But the legislation is here already. Enforcement of law, without hysteria or guesswork, will take care of the situation. An accessory to murder, before the fact, is guilty of murder in the first degree. Whoever shares in planning a murder is as guilty as the man that places the bomb. Now laws reflect only necessary alarm. The new laws will do the work if you mean it.

In the Argentine Republic they are undertaking to weed out agitators that favor an end of government, by letting them set up a little anarchist state in the mountains of Terra Del Fuego, the "Land of Fire," which is really a land of mist, cold and desolation. Foreign agitators in the Argentine are sent back to the native lands. Native born agitators are sent to the colony of anarchists, the land of fire, where they are supposed to live, where the fire is to be kindled, and where Darwin made his interesting discoveries.

If such a colony of "men opposed to all laws" should be started, they would afford interesting study. The first thing the anarchists would do would be to make laws covering their colony, laws to protect the man that caught a wild cat; laws to make men work or without food. Anarchists would deny it, but none the less if compelled to live together and make laws to escape to "barren" lands, they would become lawmakers.

England sent her criminals to Australia and New Zealand. The descendants are among the wheat lawnmowers and most scrupulous new observers on the island who thinks he is against all law simply does not know what law is, or how he would feel without it.

Thirty million German men and women are represented in a petition to the people of America, asking for moderation of the peace terms, on the ground that they can't be fulfilled.

Concerning the peace terms, the most important announcement is that Lloyd George of Great Britain is inclined to make some changes. He thinks it would be to get twenty-five real billions from Germany than an I O U for an amount that will never be paid.

Another place of news from Germany, through the Associated Press, announces an effort by big German business men to form a kind of industrial partnership with the United States, the United States to be the boss, running the combination and making a profit on it. It is doubtful whether the Allies would allow an arrangement of that kind, even if the United States would consider it.

They are getting back to peace conditions in England. The Derby race year yesterday was the first time in four years. The Derby

Downs saw the usual crowd, presumably from the King in the Royal enclosure, to the minister with his bare head, authorizing pennies from Coaters in their doxy cars. In this revival of the great race, a long called "Paper Money ran third. Grand Parade was first. Burdett second. Finally speaking, Paper Money was entitled to a better place in England at this time.

For one man in this country that could give you a clear opinion as to the future of the peace outcome of the Peace League, more than a thousand could give you all the facts about William Dempsey, with a definite opinion, unswerving that peace will come.

This is still an individual epoch, and the individual punch of one man is more important than the movement of masses of human beings.
